Hot Docs: Where are the tax forms???

Delayed Legislation, Printing, & Delivery of 2010 Tax Products

On December 17, the President signed the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job

Creation Act of 2010. The printing and distribution of many forms were delayed pending the approval of this legislation and only recently began. These products include Form 1040, Form 1040A, Instructions 1040, and Instructions 1040A, as well as many others. The Government Printing Office is working now to accomplish the quick delivery of tax products. Please be advised that the Government Documents Department will make these forms and booklets available to you as soon as they arrive. In the meantime, please check www.irs.gov for online forms if you are unable to wait for the paper form deliveries.

Who Must Wait to File (Yes, some of us won't be allowed to file until mid to late February!)

For most taxpayers, the 2011 tax filing season starts on schedule. However, tax law changes enacted by Congress and signed by President Obama in December mean some people need to wait until mid- to late February to file their tax returns in order to give the IRS time to reprogram its processing systems.

Some taxpayers – including those who itemize deductions on Form 1040 Schedule A – will need to wait to file.

This includes taxpayers impacted by any of three tax provisions that expired at the end of 2009 and were renewed by the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act Of 2010 enacted

Dec. 17.

Please see

<http://www.irs.gov/newsroom/article/0,,id=233910,00.html?portlet=7> for full details.

Georgia tax forms are always received later, and will be placed in the tax area upon receipt.

Please contact Lori Lester at llester@georgiasouthern.edu or 912 478-5032 or Virginia Thomas at 912 478-5117 if you have questions.

New location of Current Periodicals

January 14, 2011

Welcome back to the Boro! While some of you were on the road, we've relocated the Current Periodicals from the first floor to the second floor. You'll find them on their bright yellow shelves near the main computer cluster in the Learning Commons, on the Carroll side of the building. If you lift up a shelf, you'll find even more recent issues of these magazines and journals.

Of course, these print issues are just a taste of the vast number of periodicals we provide for you. Most of them are available online via Electronic Journals A-Z, which is linked from our library homepage.*

*Pssst...keep your eyes peeled for a brand new library homepage in your future...your very near future...

Hot Docs: Help your government work for you!!

January 14, 2011

If you use or have used government documents, please let us know what you think of the Federal Depository

Library Program (FDLP)'s government services and collections with this 16 question survey!

Results of the survey will contribute to the extensive efforts by GPO to address the value of FDLP membership.

<http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/HSLCRRB>

Alternately, you may complete a postcard survey, available from the Learning Commons Desk on the 2nd floor of the library. The survey will be available through February 2011.
